

WHAT DOES LOCAL LOVE LOOK LIKE?

Darcy was stuck in a revolving street life community. With mental and physical issues, his life began to unravel and he lost the one thing he took for granted – his home.

Over a year ago, Darcy connected with an outreach worker and programming through a United Way funded agency. With support, he has stable housing and is using proactive tools to handle his addiction and depression. Darcy's daily life is stronger and healthier because of his dedication and the community's helping hand.
